

Laura Marie Rosky-Santoni

Laura Rosky-Santoni began playing the violin in third grade from the West Hartford Connecticut public schools. She received her BM in violin performance from Rice University and her MM in violin performance from the University of Southern California. She was a Starling scholarship recipient at both schools. Her major teachers include Cyrus Forough, Ruben Gonzalez, Ken Sarch and Edward Schmider. Ms. Rosky-Santoni has performed in the United Kingdom, Spain, France and Italy and been a participant in festivals such as Tanglewood (BUTI and fellowship), Aspen, Spoleto (U.S. and Italy), and Carcasonne. For several years, she was an instructor and director of the Inland Suzuki Music School in Redlands and has been invited to guest teach at Suzuki institutes and at the Cincinnatti Conservatory of Music. Ms. Rosky-Santoni is currently a private violin teacher, member of the San Bernardino Symphony, mother of Jaquie and Reed Santoni and wife to Giampaolo Santoni.
